Visa Dispute Management Service

Optimize dispute management with our dispute experts

Fighting disputes can be an expensive, complicated, and labor-intensive process for issuers. As seamless ecommerce experiences grow, consumer confusion rises along with disputes¹, making it harder for issuers to keep up with the necessary staffing, training, and process changes required by current consumer behaviors and evolving network rules and policies.

Visa Dispute Management Service

Visa Dispute Management Service (VDMS), an onbehalf-of dispute case management service, can help issuers manage disputes for Visa transactions, freeing up issuers' time to focus on serving customers.

VDMS dispute analysts have over 500 combined years of dispute case management experience, enabling them to quickly answer questions and close cases.² This can help free issuer resources to focus on maintaining the relationship and interaction with customers, while VDMS handles all aspects of the dispute process behind the scenes. VDMS analysts can help with:

• Optimized recoveries: VDMS's average dispute recovery rate is ~90%, plus an arbitration win rate of 93%³

Decreased costs: VDMS can help reduce staff training requirements and simplify operational costs into a simple per case fee

- Enhanced service: VDMS dispute analysts are experts on dispute policies and network rules
- Real-time reporting: VDMS includes access to Visa Resolve Online (VROL) case reporting and monthly performance summaries

Working together to improve the cardholder experience

Issuers submit cases through Visa Resolve Online and the VDMS team manages the dispute process.
